Symptoms of individual, ancestral and collective trauma are playing out in the multiple crises that humanity is facing today and in our inability to respond adequately. Our separation from the living ecosystem of the planet, from each other and from ourselves inhibits our capacity to receive the insights and develop the compassion necessary for a healing movement.

Collective trauma impedes our potential for the expression of collective intelligence. Collective trauma integration, ethical learning and restoration allow us to shift humanity towards a path of collaboration, innovation and emergence.

The Pocket Project is developing the awareness and skills that allow us to move from traumatised and traumatising to trauma-informed and trauma-integrating communities, organisations and societies.

Together, we can transform hopelessness into hope, overwhelm into curiosity and isolation, polarisation and ‘othering’ into connectedness and societal evolution. By going to the roots of our discomfort we can come home. By sharing our resources we can create abundance.

OUR VISION:

We restore fragmentation by addressing and integrating individual, ancestral and collective trauma. We heal the wounds from the past, thus shifting humanity towards a path of collaboration, innovation and emergence.

OUR MISSION:

We raise awareness and train civil society, professionals and policy makers about the global impact and processes for the integration of collective trauma. We develop social impact projects that provide trauma-informed service.
It is our understanding that unresolved systemic, intergenerational trauma delays the development of the human family, harms the natural world, and inhibits our evolutionary movement. We support change agents and leaders to become trauma-informed. Through precise relational and systemic sensing, ‘pockets of healing’ can emerge in communities, organisations and countries. When the level of trust and coherence in such a community of practice rises, underlying fields of trauma can be addressed. Over time, the group develops an increased ability to host waves of intensity and create a space for ethical transgression to grow into ethical learning and restoration. A deeper acknowledgement and digestion of content and experiences that could not be processed before can unfold. ‘Pockets of Healing’ become able to integrate ‘Pockets of Trauma’. The creative and innovative potential of communities, organisations and countries grows.
OUR APPROACH AND ACTIVITIES

AWARENESS RAISING
We reach out to a global audience to raise awareness of the impact of individual, ancestral and collective trauma

COMMUNITY OF PRACTICE
We grow communities of practice that cultivate the embodied presence, attunement and relational competence needed for the emergence of pockets of healing

EDUCATION & CONSULTANCY
We offer education and consultancy to spread trauma-informed practice and policy to communities, organisations and countries

COLLECTIVE TRAUMA INTEGRATION
We engage with specific geographic and/or thematic areas of individual, ancestral and collective trauma and deliver processes for trauma integration to communities, organisations, and countries

EVALUATION & RESEARCH
We create rapid feedback loops and research programs to generate the data that drives an evidence-based approach
OUR CURRENT AREAS OF PRIORITY

RAPID RESPONSE TO CRISSES
Our professional teams provide psychosocial support for individual and societal stabilisation in the face of hot trauma

MIGRATION & DISPLACEMENT
We offer access to trauma-informed practice & policy, with a focus on historic and collective aspects, for growing streams of displaced people

POLARISATION & DEMOCRACY
We support trauma awareness and trauma integration in order to meet the roots of polarisation and create mutual understanding across societal divides

THE CLIMATE CRISIS
We provide frameworks to better understand and meet the roots of the climate crisis, counteract apathy and hyperactivation, and generate appropriate responsiveness

At the heart of our mission sits our aim to help humanity wake up and respond to the hidden variables in our societal matrix: individual, ancestral and collective trauma. Our reach is global and diverse.

If everybody looks through broken glass, then together we are looking at a world that looks broken. When I notice my crack in my window, and you notice yours, and we start healing our cracks, then we begin to look at the world through clear glass. And that’s what trauma healing does. It starts unifying the world.” - Thomas Huebl

The annual online Collective Trauma Summit shared ideas and inspired action for healing individual, ancestral, and collective trauma. Hosted in partnership with Inner Science LLC, this event offered free access to over 50 expert talks, presentations, and teachings to a global audience.

The Collective Trauma Summit contributes to a global healing movement for collective issues of our time including gender violence, racism, colonialism, enslavement, genocide, ecocide and climate change.

PARTICIPANTS: 350,000 OVER THE PAST FOUR YEARS

The healing power of compassionate social witnessing became so clear in this event, not only for the victims… but for the whole interconnected field.

Participant Global Social Witnessing Calls
These free monthly calls offer opportunities for a global community to deepen skills for trauma-informed practice: attunement, presence, self- and co-regulation, relatedness and compassion. Together, we increase our capacity to become an acupuncture point of stability, grow pockets of healing and activate healthy response mechanisms in our environments.

GLOBAL SOCIAL WITNESSING CALLS
POCKETPROJECT.ORG/GLOBAL-SOCIAL-WITNESSING

In these free calls, we mindfully attend to global events from a place of embodied awareness, not alone, but as a community. Each call is dedicated to a current topic or acute area of crisis in the world. Together, we offer an alive process of related witnessing and compassionate response. The social body develops through all of us.

COMMUNITY OF PRACTICE

PRACTICE GROUPS
POCKETPROJECT.ORG/PRACTICE-GROUPS

These are local or online groups that meet regularly to practice skills for relating, transparent communication, mindfulness and meditation. This work is foundational for Global Social Witnessing and Collective Trauma Integration.

Practice groups can serve as guideposts on our journey of inner and outer growth. In order to address personal, ancestral and collective trauma, we need to grow our vessel first. Practicing basic skills with like-minded individuals in a caring and nurturing environment provides a pillar of support.

In 2022 we created a new platform for the Practice Groups on the Pocket Project website. Currently, we are encouraging more representatives from our Community of Practice to train up and start Practice Groups on all continents and for particular peer groups.

In 2022, we conducted a second Trauma-Informed Leadership Training. The content was transformed into a self-study version which is open for enrolment. We now have a growing alumni community who are bringing these transformative tools to their own communities and organisations. In 2023, we will broaden this circle with a focus on women in leadership.

SCHOLARSHIPS
POCKETPROJECT.ORG/SCHOLARSHIPS

Collective trauma integration prepares the ground for the emergence of healing institutions in our societies. Our aim is to offer access to information and skills to as many people of colour from the Global South and/or people who have experienced systemic exclusion as possible. We prioritise scholarships for people who can serve as multipliers with impact in their communities.

In 2022, we were able to provide scholarships for 201 people on the Trauma-Informed Leadership Course, a 4-month immersive online course on the theory, methods & applications of working with collective trauma.

We provided spaces for 110 Ukrainians, leaders from the fields of psychology, education, human rights, and refugees, in our Trauma-Informed Leadership Course 2022. Around 90% of them were living in the Ukraine, facing the daily challenges of war.

From 1 October to 31 December 2022, we offered Ukraine Support Calls for Ukrainians anywhere in the world. The trauma-informed expertise of the facilitators and the safety of well-held, coherent spaces, provided opportunities for those in need to ground in somatic awareness and inner resilience.

The Covid crisis, coupled with the climate crisis and compounded by the war in Ukraine, challenges our democracies. Unseen wounds of the past are activated and lead to societal fragmentation and polarisation.

The Pocket Project, in partnership with ‘Mehr Demokratie’ a German NGO, offered an online Collective Trauma Integration Process (CTIP), led by Thomas Huebl, with the aim of deepening and restoring mutual perception and understanding across societal divides. We explored individual, intergenerational and collective movements below the surface. Through the individual processes in the context of the group, a collective process was set in motion, leading to an increase in mutual compassion and understanding.

In every part of the world, humanity’s collective shadow contains different flavours and degrees of intensity. Yet, it exists wherever humanity exists. Only the right key, our precise attunement, can unlock each door. All that is required is our willingness to fully attend to what arises and to be compassionate in the process.

- Thomas Huebl
Trauma is the root of our inactivity in the face of Climate Change. Trauma symptoms of numbness, apathy, hyper-activation and polarisation dramatically slow down our ability to respond adequately. Our lack of relationship to the crisis is part of the crisis.

The Pocket Project offered a rich online framework programme to help audiences from around the world to expand and ground their sensitive relatedness.

We offered daily interviews with key players on the ground at COP27 and with climate solution holders from around the world, with a focus on voices from communities on the frontline of the Climate Crisis. We addressed climate grief and the possibility of collapse.

“To bring trauma healing to the climate crisis conversation makes so much sense. So much clicked together in my mind about my own work, my concern about the global crisis, and the collective trauma all around us.”

5. EVALUATION & RESEARCH
WE CREATE RAPID FEEDBACK LOOPS AND RESEARCH PROGRAMS TO GENERATE THE DATA THAT DRIVES AN EVIDENCE-BASED APPROACH.

EVALUATION
Our evaluation framework helps to create rapid feedback loops for all our activities. We survey all of our activities to learn what went well and what could be improved.

SURVEY RESPONSES: 1945

RESEARCH
In collaboration with research institutes including the Institute of Advanced Sustainability Studies, the Institute for Integral Studies, the Cynefin Institute and the University of Witten Herdecke in Germany, we deepen our scientific understanding of Collective Trauma Integration.

In 2022, we launched an Epigenetic Study of DNA changes caused through participation in the Timeless Wisdom Training.

“...how important it is in these difficult times that we raise awareness of the complex nature of trauma and to fully understand its impact on ourselves, our teams, and our work in the world."

RESEARCH

POCKETPROJECT.ORG/RESEARCH-REPORT

The Collective Trauma Integration Process (CTIP) for Overcoming Polarization in Crisis in Germany was framed by a research project. SenseMaker software enabled us to recognise patterns of cultural change.

Based on a systematic analysis of narratives elicited before and after the integration process, the report illuminates trends providing insights into personal and collective shifts from numbness to curious engagement and from alienation to a sense of co-creating society. The research report can be downloaded from our website.

RESEARCH QUESTION FOR THE CTIP:

Can understanding, and more consciously dealing with, collective trauma dynamics help strengthen our democracy and overcome polarisation?

NARRATIVES ELICITED: 640

“As a citizen, I feel held back from important decisions. My direct bearing on current decisions is so hampered that I run myself ragged and then don’t even start. I need small, close circles to share, which can influence larger circles with political representatives, thus reaching into the current government.”

Adrian Wagner, Judith Driesen, Dr. Nina Schippke
“The shared experience of processing trauma opens up innovative avenues for a solution-oriented, democratic response to crises.

“Deeper personal and collective experiences influence our ways of living together, sometimes across generations. Trauma sensitivity facilitates society-wide communication and mutual understanding.

“The motivation to engage in democratic society increases when we process our collective traumas together."
ORGANISATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

DEVELOP AN ORGANISATIONAL STRUCTURE THAT ALLOWS FOR THE INVOLVEMENT OF A GROWING NUMBER OF DONORS, STAFF, FREELANCERS, AND VOLUNTEERS IN THE MANIFESTATION OF OUR STRATEGY

IN THE COMING 3 YEARS, WE WILL:

- Expand our teams of professionally trained therapists, coaches, practice group leaders, trauma-informed leaders, global social witnessing facilitators and collective trauma facilitators to activate the global healing movement.
- Ensure the continuing high quality of relational and systemic sensing underlying all our work.
- Enhance our capacity for rapid psychosocial response to crisis situations in the world.
- Deepen our work on historic and collective trauma integration through a next cycle of International Labs.
- Expand structures for societal trauma relief together with governments, NGOs and local community leaders.
- Bring a presence of trauma-informed knowledge and practice to all continents.

“Compassion is not a relationship between the healer and the wounded. It’s a relationship between equals. Only when we know our darkness well can we be present with the darkness of others.”

Pema Chödrön
We raised 248,539 Euro in donations from our 82 Friends of the Pocket Project, one key donor and many one-off donations. We are proud that the value of our work attracts this level of support.

We celebrate our ability to provide 201 full and 78 partial scholarships for the Trauma-informed Leadership course, which allowed 110 Ukrainians and many from the Global Majority to gain access to this information.

We gained support in the EU and Germany for our first funded projects - an expression of recognition for our work. In addition, we were able to raise funds through education & consultancy which are reinvested in the fulfillment of our mission in the world.

Embodiment is the foundation for healing. Without embodiment, we have no instrument to receive the world and to ground the energy of anxiety, fear and trauma. Our body is the instrument that allows the energy to return and become fertile soil for the future.
