Our work rests on the premise, supported by scientific evidence, that unresolved collective and intergenerational trauma delays the development of the human family, harms the natural world, and inhibits our evolutionary progress.

We respond to both acute and systemic crises and work both with affected populations and the change agents, leaders and institutions involved. We help to first, identify the sources and impacts of trauma and, second, create approaches to prevent or repair them. The core competencies of our work are relational sensing and systemic sensing, which help grow and nurture ‘pockets of healing’ which we have seen can heal and integrate ‘pockets of trauma’.

We spread trauma-informed practices and policies, so that communities, organisations, and government bodies become equipped with the resources needed to address the often hidden layers of mistrust, conflict and polarisation that grow from trauma. Healing from systemic, traumatic impacts allows such collectives to unfold capacities for compassionate and collaborative change, exponentially advancing the potential for creative and innovative potential to tackle our world’s most urgent challenges.

With gratitude for your support,
Thomas Hübl, Chair & Co-founder
Kosha Joubert, CEO
OUR VISION:
We restore fragmentation by addressing and integrating individual, ancestral and collective trauma. We heal the wounds from the past, thus shifting humanity towards a path of collaboration, innovation and emergence.

OUR MISSION:
We raise awareness and train civil society, professionals and policy makers about the global impact and processes for the integration of collective trauma. We develop social impact projects that provide trauma-informed service.
It is our understanding that unresolved systemic, intergenerational trauma delays the development of the human family, harms the natural world, and inhibits our evolutionary movement. We support change agents and leaders to become trauma-informed. Through precise relational and systemic sensing, ‘pockets of healing’ can emerge in communities, organisations and countries. When the level of trust and coherence in such a community of practice rises, underlying fields of trauma can be addressed. Over time, the group develops an increased ability to host waves of intensity and create a space for ethical transgression to grow into ethical learning and restoration. A deeper acknowledgement and digestion of content and experiences that could not be processed before can unfold. ‘Pockets of Healing’ become able to integrate ‘Pockets of Trauma’. The creative and innovative potential of communities, organisations and countries grows.
Whether we realize it or not, it is our woundedness, or how we cope with it, that dictates much of our behavior, shapes our social habits, and informs our ways of thinking about the world.

Gabor Maté

Gabor Maté

the inner response of an individual or a collective when facing an overwhelming situation. A high level of stress overloads the capacity to stay related to the experience. As a result, the nervous system disassociates from that part which has become overwhelmed in order to protect the rest of the organism and survive.

Where trauma is not integrated soon after the precipitating event, it remains stored in the nervous system and creates permanent and long-lasting after-effects within a person or, even, a culture. These manifest as a range of symptoms or ‘signposts’ that can be traced back to the original traumatic experiences.

“The violence present in our hearts, wounded by sin, is also reflected in the symptoms of sickness evident in the soil, in the water, in the air and in all forms of life.”

Laudato Si - Pope Frances

OUR AREAS OF PRIORITY

1. MENTAL HEALTH IN CRISIS
   Our professional teams provide psychosocial support for individual and societal stabilisation in the face of hot trauma.

2. MIGRATION & DISPLACEMENT
   We offer access to trauma-informed practice & policy, with a focus on historic and collective aspects, for growing streams of displaced people.

3. POLARISATION & CONFLICT
   We support trauma awareness and trauma integration in order to meet the roots of polarisation and create mutual understanding across societal divides.

4. THE CLIMATE CRISIS
   We provide frameworks to better understand and meet the roots of the climate crisis, counteract apathy and hyperactivation, and generate appropriate responsiveness.
ROOT CAUSES OF CURRENT CRISES

- Hyper-Activation & Burn-Out
- Widespread Apathy & Depression
- Climate Refugees
- War & Economic Refugees
- Fragmented Institutions & Societies
- Wars in Ukraine, Syria
- Ecosystems Collapse
- Natural Disasters

Priority 1: Mental Health in Crisis
Priority 2: Migration & Displacement
Priority 3: Polarisation & Conflict
Priority 4: Climate Crisis

Personal & Collective Trauma
- Distorted images of self, other, world

Historic & Ancestral Trauma
- Wars, genocide, displacement, systems of oppression
- (sexism, racism, colonialism, enslavement, fanaticism, tyranny)
There is a natural tendency in both individual and collective systems that leans towards healing. When provided with a trauma-informed expertise of heightened attunement and the safety of a well-held, coherent space, we can restore our relations.

OUR APPROACH & ACTIVITIES

Awareness Raising
We reach out to a global audience to raise awareness of the impact of individual, ancestral and collective trauma.

Community of Practice
We grow communities of practice that cultivate the embodied presence, attunement and relational competence needed for the emergence of pockets of healing.

Trauma-Informed Approaches
We offer education and consultancy to spread trauma-informed practice and policy to communities, organisations and countries.

Collective Trauma Integration
We engage with specific geographic and/or thematic areas of individual, ancestral and collective trauma and deliver processes for trauma integration to communities, organisations, and countries.

Evaluation & Research
We create rapid feedback loops and research programs to generate the data that drives an evidence-based approach.

1. AWARENESS RAISING
WE REACH OUT TO A GLOBAL AUDIENCE TO RAISE AWARENESS OF THE IMPACT OF INDIVIDUAL, ANCESTRAL, COLLECTIVE TRAUMA.

The Pocket Project has recently added a DESIGNER and an ENGAGEMENT MANAGER to our team, to support us in understanding and responding to the needs of our audience with more precision and beauty.

We needed to relaunch some of our SOCIAL MEDIA platforms (Instagram, Twitter, LinkedIn), This foundational work is now starting to pay off and our social media networks are set to grow.

After offering successful framework events for the UN Climate Conferences COP26 & COP27, we will grow this event into the CLIMATE & CONSCIOUSNESS SUMMIT, mirroring the success of the Collective Trauma Summit, which the Pocket Project has been a partner to since 4 years.

2. COMMUNITY OF PRACTICE

WE GROW COMMUNITIES OF PRACTICE THAT CULTIVATE THE EMBODIED PRESENCE, ATTUNEMENT AND RELATIONAL COMPETENCE NEEDED FOR THE EMERGENCE OF POCKETS OF HEALING.

The Pocket Project continues to nurture free COMMUNITY CALLS in which diverse professionals offer experiential skills-training for trauma-informed practice. Each participant grows in their capacity to become an acupuncture point of stability and healing. Together, we become a trauma-informed community of practice.

We grow our free GLOBAL SOCIAL WITNESSING CALLS in which this growing community of practice mindfully attends to global events from a place of embodied awareness. Each call is dedicated to a current topic or acute area of crisis in the world.

Through our PRACTICE GROUPS we spread and ground an embodied presence of trauma-informed knowledge and practice to all continents.

PRACTICE GROUPS
POCKETPROJECT.ORG/PRACTICE-GROUPS

These are local or online groups that meet regularly to practice skills for relating, transparent communication, mindfulness and meditation in a caring and nurturing environment. This work is foundational for Global Social Witnessing and Collective Trauma Integration.

We aim to offer Practice Groups in more languages for more peer groups (leaders, parents, youth, coaches, therapists, educators, etc.) and on all continents by 2025.

3. EDUCATION & CONSULTANCY
WE OFFER EDUCATION AND CONSULTANCY TO SPREAD TRAUMA-INFORMED PRACTICE AND POLICY TO COMMUNITIES, ORGANISATIONS AND COUNTRIES.

- We continue to expand our teams of professionally trained therapists, coaches, practice group leaders, trauma-informed leaders, global social witnessing facilitators and collective trauma facilitators to activate the global healing movement.

- We ensure the continuing high quality of the relational and systemic sensing underlying all our work.

- We offer high-quality training and consultancy to spread trauma-informed policy and practice for Government institutions, diplomats, NGOs, social enterprises and engaged citizens around the world.
EDUCATION

POCKETPROJECT.ORG/TRAUMA-INFORMED WOMEN

Since 2021 we have offered an annual Trauma-Informed Leadership Training. The content was transformed into a self-study version which is open for enrolment. We now have a growing alumni community who are bringing these transformative tools to their own communities and organisations.

- Dana Lanza, CEO Confluence Philanthropy, TIL Alumni
Collective trauma integration prepares the ground for the emergence of healing institutions in our societies. Our aim is to offer access to information and skills to participants from crisis areas, people of colour from the 'Global South' and/or people who have experienced systemic exclusion. We prioritise scholarships for people who can serve as multipliers with impact in their communities.

4. COLLECTIVE TRAUMA INTEGRATION

We engage with specific geographic and/or thematic areas of trauma and deliver processes for integration to communities, organisations, and countries.

We will deepen our work on historic and collective trauma integration through a next cycle of INTERNATIONAL LABS, starting in Sept 2023 - Apr 2025. Our last cycle had 692 participants.

We address 1. MENTAL HEALTH IN CRISIS through our GLOBAL SUPPORT PROJECT and thus enhance our capacity for rapid psychosocial response to crisis situations in the world.

We address 2. MIGRATION & DISPLACEMENT through our work on collective trauma-informed guidelines and our work with diaspora communities.

We address 3. POLARIZATION & CONFLICT through an action research program, framing Collective Trauma Integration Processes with a process that visualises the transformation of collective fields.

We address 4. THE CLIMATE CRISIS through regular Global Social Witnessing Calls and an annual Collective Climate Summit.
THE COLLECTIVE TRAUMA INTEGRATION PROCESS (CTIP) HAS SIX CORE STAGES:

1. SYNCHRONISING & RESOURCING
   - Form relational coherence as a group. Grow compassion and access to personal and cultural resources.

2. MEETING THE LANDSCAPE
   - Align our attention to previously split off content and information. Access symptoms of denial, repression or resistance.

3. EXPLORING TRAUMA CONDITIONING
   - Begin to trace the voices of individuals back to their roots. Deepen understanding of how we as individuals and as a collective have been shaped by trauma.

4. LISTENING TO THE FIELD
   - Through the voices of individuals we touch on ancestral and collective content. Become a conduit for the collective past to be expressed and witnessed.

5. INTEGRATING & RESTORING
   - The integration of experiences often begins in small groups. Reflect and share from an embodied place. Post-traumatic learning begins.

6. TRANSFORMING & META-LEARNING
   - Transpersonal witnessing and integration of the process. First steps of recovery and social change become visible as potential.
The International Labs are groups that meet over several months with the support of trained Collective Trauma Facilitators to explore the historic background, architecture and specific expression of ancestral and collective fields of trauma. They are held within a meta-learning framework of research and supervision. The Labs deepen the foundation of the work of the Pocket Project, expanding our understanding, and broadening our awareness and digestion of collective trauma aftereffects.

The Labs started with a first cycle lasting from Nov 2020 to Jun 2021. We then entered a reflection period to tease out meta-learnings in supervision sessions and a series of reports, which are available on our website.

In 2022-23, a Collective Trauma Facilitator Training has deepened skills and prepared the ground for a next cycle of Labs. This will start with an onboarding process in Sept 2023, run throughout 2024, and complete with evaluation and research reports in Apr 2025.

Collective trauma is an invisible, yet formative ingredient for the structures that emerge in our cultures and societies, and that we tend to take for granted.

- Thomas Huebl, Founder Pocket Project
MENTAL HEALTH IN CRISIS

In our GLOBAL SUPPORT PROJECT, we combine Global Social Witnessing with rapid response to crisis to minimise and prevent current traumatisation in acute crises. Our international teams of therapists, coaches and consultants donate their time to offer 1:1 and Group Sessions with the goal of resourcing individuals and cultivating social stability. We offer regular Supervision Calls and trainings for our teams.

The UKRAINE SUPPORT PROJECT has benefitted 15,251+ people, in 1498+ 1:1 Sessions and 78+ Group Sessions. We are building a global healing impulse which directs its efforts to support where the need is strong. 93% of participants found their 1:1 session ‘extremely’ or a ‘great deal’ rewarding.

"It is very important to have a person with whom you can share your anxieties. But the reality is that my friends are either in Ukraine or in the Armed Forces. We can communicate, but the nature of our anxiety is hugely different. Abroad, without a circle of people, I can trust, being able to talk to a psychologist is salvation."

Tetiana K., Ukrainian Refugee
The number of REFUGEES worldwide increased from 27.1 million in 2021 to 35.3 million at the end of 2022, the largest yearly increase ever recorded, according to UNHCR’s statistics on forced displacement. Overall, 52 per cent of all refugees and other people in need of international protection came from just three countries: the Syrian Arab Republic (6.5 million), Ukraine (5.7 million) and Afghanistan (5.7 million).

The Pocket Project, in collaboration with the Harvard Program in Refugee Trauma is dedicated to develop and consult for TRAUMA-INFORMED GUIDELINES that bring awareness not just for individual aspects, but also for ancestral and collective aspects of the refugee experience.

We will be broadening our Global Support Project to encompass DIASPORA COMMUNITIES from Ukraine, Syria, Afghanistan, Iran, and African Countries. We have started by offering Global Social Witnessing calls co-held and in support of these communities.

If everybody looks through broken glass, then together, we are looking at a world that looks broken. When I notice my crack in my window, and you notice yours, and we start healing our cracks, then we begin to look at the world through clear glass. And that’s what trauma healing does. It starts unifying the world.

Thomas Huebl, Founder Pocket Project
The fundamental question underlying this continuing process of action research is:
DOES A COLLECTIVE TRAUMA AWARENESS AND INTEGRATION PROCESS HELP TO STRENGTHEN PEACE AND DEMOCRACY AND TO OVERCOME POLARISATION?

The markers of a healthy democracy are its capacities to support open communication and encourage dialogue and diverse viewpoints among its citizens, including in times of crisis and change. However, failing democracies struggle with divisiveness, misinformation, and other factors that can cripple this process.

What is the reason for this and how can polarisation and fragmentation be overcome? Our action research project is based on the assumption that unintegrated collective trauma from the past influences the way leaders and citizens deal with current conflicts and crises. Integrating the trauma of the past then becomes fundamental to restoring the guiding principles and practice of peace processes and democracy.

The ‘difficulties’ that arise in our lives, in our relationships, and in society are in fact wonderful invitations to a treasure hunt: if we follow them, we can arrive at the roots of our being - to where our potential awaits release.

Kosha Joubert, CEO Pocket Project
Trauma lies at the root of our inaction in the face of Climate Change. Trauma symptoms of numbness, apathy, hyper-activation and polarisation dramatically slow down our ability to respond adequately and implement the Paris climate agreements. Our lack of relationship to the crisis is part of the crisis.

In 2021 and 2022, the Pocket Project offered a rich online framework programme to help audiences from around the world to expand and ground their sensitive relatedness. We listen to voices from communities on the frontline of the Climate Crisis, from the ground at the UN conferences and from climate solution holders.

We addressed Climate Anxiety and Climate Grief. From 2023 onwards we will develop this into the annual Climate & Consciousness Summit.

When experience meets us in our open, vulnerable and responsive aspects, it becomes water.

-Thomas Huebl
5. EVALUATION & RESEARCH
WE CREATE RAPID FEEDBACK LOOPS AND RESEARCH PROGRAMS TO GENERATE THE DATA THAT DRIVES AN EVIDENCE-BASED APPROACH.

Our EVALUATION FRAMEWORK helps to create rapid feedback loops for all our activities. We survey all of our activities to learn what went well and what could be improved.

In collaboration with RESEARCH INSTITUTIONS including the Cynefin Company/SenseMaker software and the University of Witten Herdecke in Germany, we deepen our scientific understanding of Collective Trauma Integration.

In 2022, we launched an EPIGENETIC STUDY of DNA changes caused through participation in the Timeless Wisdom Training, a 2-year transformational process led by Thomas Hübl.

"How important it is in these difficult times that we raise awareness of the complex nature of trauma and to fully understand its impact on ourselves, our teams, and our work in the world."

Florecia R. - Social Researcher

A more conscious perception and new understanding of the direct links between personal injuries, collective memory content and present crises experiences emerge.

Participants’ sense-making and meaning-making change in such a way that they express more commitment, motivation and responsibility in the context of community or democracy.

The collective transforms from a “thing out there” into an internalised resonance experience.

The lived experience of resonance enables a creative approach to polarisation and conflict.

Differences and differing opinions can be better included and contained from which innovative and appropriate response possibilities arise.

ORGANISATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

DEVELOP AN ORGANISATIONAL STRUCTURE THAT ALLOWS FOR THE INVOLVEMENT OF A GROWING NUMBER OF DONORS, STAFF, FREELANCERS, AND VOLUNTEERS IN THE MANIFESTATION OF OUR STRATEGY

- We will change our name to either 'GLOBAL RESTORATION INSTITUTE' or 'INSTITUTE FOR COLLECTIVE RESTORATION' to better communicate our intention.

- We will prepare a global strategy of organisational development, setting up a second branch/non-for-profit in the US and regional hubs in Latin America, Africa and Asia.

- We will develop two departments across our branches and hubs, with one department focusing on engaged citizens, NGOs and social enterprise and a second department reaching out to diplomats and governments.

- As we support systems and countries in their collective restoration efforts, we identify key players and leverage point from both audiences, thus combining our bottom-up and top-down strategies into a powerful tool for whole systems transformation.
We ensure the continuing high quality of the relational and systemic sensing underlying all our work.

We continue to expand our teams of professionally trained therapists, coaches, practice group leaders, trauma-informed leaders, global social witnessing facilitators and collective trauma facilitators to activate the global healing movement.

We continue to expand our teams of support and the diversity and expansive reach of our audience.

All our work is carried out in adherence to our values, directly related to the three basic Human Rights, as we understand them, and to the three core values of the United Nations:

The Right to Be - with Integrity
The Right to Become - with Professionalism
The Right to Belong - with Respect for Diversity
At the heart of our partnerships are our collaboration with the Academy of Inner Science, Sharing the Presence GMBH in Germany and Inner Science LLC in the US. These companies support and feed into the work of the Pocket Project, and vice versa.

The Pocket Project cultivates partnerships with like-minded organisations, and those that extend our work into areas beyond our immediate skills and capacities. We share our sense of urgency for humanity to wake up to the hidden variable of trauma.

Is your organization interested in partnering with us, or shifting to trauma-informed and trauma integrating practices and policies? Reach out and let us know!

The Pocket Project serves as an umbrella for the nonprofit activities of bringing Collective Trauma Integration Processes (CTIP) into service where they are most needed and most effective.

"Embodiment is the foundation for healing. Without embodiment, we have no instrument to receive the world and to ground the energy of anxiety, fear and trauma. Our body is the instrument that allows the energy to return and become fertile soil for the future."

-Kosha Joubert
We fundraise resources that allow us to contribute to the healing of collective trauma and to reduce its disruptive effects on our global culture. Every donor is an active participant in the realization of these aims.

Friends of the Pocket Project is a growing circle of key donors and monthly donors. We learn from the feedback from this circle, and offer privileged access to certain materials and gatherings. Join us!
